IMPORTANT NOTICE

Helderberg Nature Reserve

CLOSED

The City of Cape Town has noted the key containment and mitigation measures that are being implemented across the world and in South Africa in an effort to reduce the spread of the COVID-19. We have taken note of best practice from other affected countries and the success they have found in social distancing and improved hygiene practices.

As such, the City Manager issued a number of Directives to all staff outlining the City's approach to containing and preventing further spread of the virus. One such Directive is the closure of various public facilities and amenities from Wednesday, 18 March 2020. This includes all City of Cape Town managed nature reserves, which includes the Helderberg Nature Reserve.

To this end the Helderberg Nature Reserve will remain closed to all visitors until further notice.

We will continuously assess the situation and be guided by the City Manager and will inform the public accordingly.

For more information regarding the City of Cape Town's response to the Coronavirus Covid-19 pandemic, please visit the following website: www.capetown.gov.za

The Helderberg Nature Reserve will also keep our community informed via the Friend's of Helderberg website www.helderbergnaturereserve.co.za and via its various social media platforms.
